>Did you complete high school after 12/31/05 and before 7/1/10?..... Yes / No

Based on the following definitions, does your high school program qualify as “rigorous?” (You must check at least one category, 1-5, and may check all that apply. Appropriate documentation for at least one category is required.):

[] 1. Honors or Advanced diploma program of study. (Does not apply to Oregon high schools.)

Documentation: If you completed your high school program in a state other than Oregon and that state has a recognized Honors or Advanced diploma program, provide a copy of your final high school transcript along with documentation that your program is a recognized Honors or Advanced diploma program.

[] 2. State Scholars Initiative program. (Does not apply to Oregon high schools.)

This program, supported by Congress, establishes a required set of courses that is patterned after the recommendations of the National Commission on Excellence in Education (four years of English, three years of math, three years of lab science, three-and-one-half years of social studies, and two years of a language other than English).
Documentation: If you completed your high school program in a state other than Oregon, that state has a recognized State Scholars Initiative program and you believe you successfully complete all required courses, provide a copy of your final high school transcript along with documentation that your program is a qualified State Scholars program.

[] 3. A set of courses similar to the State Scholars program (if home-schooled, see #5):

4 years of English;
3 years of math (including Algebra I and a higher level class such as Algebra II, Geometry, or Analysis & Statistics);
3 years of science (including at least two courses from biology, chemistry or physics);
3 years of social studies; and
1 year of a foreign language.

Documentation: If your courses included these minimums, provide a copy of your final high school transcript.

[] 4. Advanced Placement (AP) or International Baccalaureate (IB) courses and test scores.

Requires a minimum of two passed AP or IB courses and subsequent test scores of at least 3 or 4, respectively.
Documentation: If you believe your AP or IB courses and test scores meet the minimum requirements, submit your final high school transcript. If it does not clearly indicated AP/IB test scores, call 1(888) 225-5427 or use www.collegeboard.com/student/testing/ap/exgrd_rep.html to request that the College Board submit official test scores to Rogue Community College. Fees apply. Allow 1-2 weeks for College Board processing.

Documentation: If you completed high school requirements under a home school program (GED completion in lieu of a high school diploma does not qualify) and believe your studies are equivalent to those listed in the “courses similar to the State Scholars program” section, have one of your parents, whose information was included on your 2009/10 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), review and sign the following statement, as appropriate. In addition, attach a copy of your final high school transcript, listing your completed coursework, by term, and signed by the administrating parent.

“My son or daughter named on the reverse side of this form, completed high school requirements under a home school program administered by me. During the course of his/her studies, he/she successfully completed a “rigorous” program as defined by at least the equivalent of 4 years of English, 3 years of math (including Algebra I and a higher level class such as Algebra II, Geometry, or Analysis and Statistics), 3 years of science (including at least two courses in biology, chemistry or physics), 3 years of social studies, and 1 year of a foreign language.”
