If you did not qualify to receive federal student aid (Pell Grants, FSEOG, or Work-Study) or you need additional financial aid money to pay for your 2006-2007 college education, there are a number of merit and need-based financial aid programs still available through various state agencies, educational institutions and foundations to assist students.

These financial aid funds are not loans and do not have to be repaid. You may be able to receive federal, private, and state grants, merit scholarships, and fellowships regardless of your family’s income level. The financial aid money can be used to pay for your tuition, fees, room and board, books, supplies, and transportation.

We have enclosed a Student Aid Profile Form (SAPF) for you to complete. Before you take out federal student loans (Perkins, PLUS, or Stafford) to help pay for your education, proceed with the 2006-2007 College Financial Advisory (CFA) student aid program to apply for financial aid that does not require repayment.

It is important to apply early because most financial aid programs have strict deadlines with limited funding, and they award financial aid on a first-come-first-served basis. However, if you miss the filing deadline, you still may apply, but not all financial aid funds will be available.

To be considered for the maximum amount of available 2006-2007 financial aid funds, the College Financial Advisory Processing Center must receive your completed Student Aid Profile Form no later than June 30, 2006.

Fill out the form as instructed, enclose the processing fee, and mail it in the pre-addressed envelope. If you do not qualify or receive financial aid, the entire fee will be returned to you.

If you have any questions or need help completing the enclosed form, contact the College Financial Advisory Student Aid Information Center at 1-888-4-APLY-NOW (1-888-427-5966), Monday through Friday, 8:00 AM – 4:00 PM PST, or email us at info@collegefinadv.org.
