The Rogue Community College Small Business Development Center will offer a one-evening class covering the ins-and-outs and applications of Web pages for business owners.

WEB SITE DEVELOPMENT: WHY DO I NEED A WEB PAGE? – 6-9 p.m., March 7: For those considering making, changing, expanding, or closing a business Web page. Before making the final decision, ask the important questions that most business owners neglect to ask themselves: Do I need a Web page? What will a Web page do for me? How much should it cost? What questions should I ask? What’s a search engine and why should I care? How much time and effort will I put in? How much can I do myself? Class members will get personal answers and individual instructor time. Bring questions and come prepared to learn. Class enrollment is limited to 10. Tuition: $40. Instructor: Gordon Bowen.

The class will be held at the RCC Small Business Development Center, 214 S.W. Fourth St., Grants Pass. A once-per-term $10 registration fee will also be charged. Pre-registration is required by noon two working days before the class to avoid cancellation. Enrollment is limited. Register on-line at www.roguecc.edu/SBDC, at any RCC registration site, or call the SBDC at 956-7494, 245-7500, Ext. 7494, or 1-800-411-6508, Ext. 7494, for pre-registration or further information.
