Learn pinhole photography at RCC workshop

Rogue Community College will offer a one-day workshop on the unique process of pinhole photography.

Taught by Erika Leppman, a photography instructor at Southern Oregon University, the class is scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Feb. 4 at the RCC Firehouse Art Center, 214 S.W. Fourth St., Grants Pass.

Students will make their own cameras, take pictures and develop their prints. Finished pieces will be matted and displayed at the Wiseman Gallery Annex in February. Cost is $50, which includes all materials except a camera box (oatmeal tube boxes are standard).

Class size is limited. Register online for course number 9.016 at www.roguecc.edu/BCWD/class_list.asp. Call 956-7339 for more information.
