Course helps home-based businesses

“When Home is Where Your Work Is: A Guide to Success for the Home-Based Business,” will be offered this spring by the Rogue Community College Small Business Development Center.

Scheduled from 6 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays, April 28 through May 26, the class will help participants develop a successful home business. The class covers rules and regulations, calculating start-up costs, business structures, business and marketing planning, cash flow projections, mission statements, advertising, supply sources, pricing, financing basics, recordkeeping/taxes, setting goals, living in a business, time management, and growth. Also offered is free business counseling.

Instructor Donna Love is the small business specialist at the RCC SBDC. Her areas of expertise include business start-up, financing, business plans, cash flow, marketing, and basic recordkeeping and taxes. Tuition is $225.

Additional SBDC courses being offered spring term include:

- “Creating Your Business Plan,” 9 a.m. to noon Saturdays, April 25 through May 16. Instructor Dave Ellison is the owner of Ellison Consulting, a business and management consulting firm. Tuition is $215.

All classes will be held at the RCC Small Business Development Center, 214 S.W. Fourth St., Grants Pass. Pre-registration is required by noon two working days before the class to avoid cancellation. Enrollment is limited. Register on-line, at any RCC registration site, or call the SBDC at 956-7494 for more information.
