RCC plans conference for Latino high school students

Rogue Community College will host its tenth annual Educacion, Un Mundo de Oportunidades (Education, A World of Opportunities) conference on Nov. 18.

Designed for Latino high school juniors and seniors, the event is scheduled from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the RCC Table Rock Campus, 7800 Pacific Ave., White City. Sponsored in part by RCC’s Club Latino, the one-day conference brings together Hispanic students from Jackson and Josephine counties to provide information about post-secondary education and training opportunities. There is no cost to students.

Workshops and speakers will cover college-related topics including admissions, academic resume preparation, and financial aid applications. RCC students, graduates and community leaders will help motivate young students and provide strategies for overcoming current obstacles in accessing college and challenges in the future.

Registration is limited to 200 students and fills up quickly every year. Students are encouraged to register online at www.roguecc.edu/ClubLatino/EMO.asp.

EMO also offers entertainment, food and fun, including music and an end-of-conference raffle. Breakfast and lunch are provided. For more information contact Filiberto Bencomo, RCC Latino Programs coordinator, 541-245-7722.

###

Twitter cue: RCC plans conference for Latino high school students Nov. 18.

N11-115