4. Presentations

   A. 2012-2013 Audit Presentation- Eide Bailly, LLP

   Due to flight delays, auditors were unable to attend in person and provided their presentation via teleconference.

   The Eide Bailly, LLP, Independent Auditor’s Report (see file) reflects an unqualified (clean) opinion. From the perspective of RCC’s financial statements, the auditors found RCC to be fiscally strong considering the economy. There were no material weaknesses or significant deficiencies notes with internal controls. Since RCC receives a significant amount of funding from federal programs, auditors included material testing and found zero non-compliance items or internal breakdown in this area. The College received a management letter outlining recommendations for improvement in the controls around Information Technology. The process for improvement will be determined by administration. Auditors reiterated this is nothing major, rather a recommendation. Auditors commended RCC staff for their professionalism and outstanding work.

   Board members were pleased with the auditor’s report and comments. They thanked the auditors and staff for their efforts! President Angstadt thanked Lisa Stanton, Teresa Schawo and staff for their excellent work. To receive such a positive report is a reflection that many people are doing a very good job!

   B. 2012-2013 Audit Approval

   Tim Johnson moved, seconded by Pat Ashley, that the Board adopts Resolution No. B41-13/14 accepting the 2012-2013 audit as submitted.

   The motion unanimously carried.
C. Continuing Education/Community Education- Bill Jiron, Director of Workforce Training and Community Education Services

Linda Renfro, Dean, School of Workforce and College Preparation, introduced Bill Jiron, Director of Workforce Training and Community Education Services. Mr. Jiron reported this district-wide service of the College is a cost recovery unit as opposed to the general fund. This department interfaces with the College and Jackson and Josephine County communities, with a significant amount of input from community members. The majority of funding for the department comes from revenue generated by the department. Mr. Jiron introduced the following employees who then provided an overview of their job responsibilities:

5. Committee/Advisory Reports

A. Faculty, Student, Classified, Faculty Senate Reports

Faculty – Paul Fisher distributed a written report and also provided a verbal overview of the report (see file).

- There are many moving parts in the educational system with many different responsibilities. It is important to listen to others. Before moving to outcome based funding, it is important for other to be made aware of the details and provide communication to all involved in advance. We are all accountable to different groups, for different actions, who require different outcomes. We need to be very cautious in accepting accountability as a part of the evaluation of our educational enterprises. Faculty members hope the Board of Education will continue to be proactive in defending community college accountability to the public and engage in conversations to create measures that will make our successes more evident to the public.

On Tuesday, 3/11, Shelly Parini, Dean of College Advancement for Clackamas Community College, will be presenting “Charting a Course for Community Engagement” an appreciative inquiry model customized for Clackamas Community College. A few RCC Board members attended a presentation from Ms. Parini at the OCCA annual conference. This presentation ties into the following RCC Board of Education Area of Focus:

“Engage in dialogue with RCC key stakeholders (including educational, civic, political and economic entities) through regionally centered outreach efforts while identifying opportunities in growing or emerging economic areas where RCC could become involved.”

B. General Discussion

- Board members commented on the importance of building relationships within the community. The presentation provided earlier in this meeting by RCC Workforce Training and Community Education staff provides a good example of some of the outreach being conducted by RCC. Board members are excited to receive the presentation on 3/11.

- Ron Fox reported there was an organized outreach effort conducted recently to Rogue River area students and parents which resulted in approximately 100 people attending an education fair at that high school. RCC’s two representatives in attendance did a marvelous job.

9. Administration Information Items

A. President’s Monthly Report

- Kori Bieber has taken the lead on handling the transition plan of the Foundation. She and Curtis Sommerfeld have developed a complete transition plan and are doing a good job with this. We will move forward with the posting of the Executive Director job announcement and the development of a selection process.

B. FTE Report (see file) – FTE report currently indicating a Fall term increase.

C. Achievement Compact Recommendation – During the last legislative session, a bill was passed requiring the formation of an Achievement Compact Advisory Committee at each community college and public university. This committee must present their achievement compact recommendations in a report to the Board of Education. Vice President Gibson will be leading this process and has a draft plan. He will finalize this plan and distribute it to the Board soon.

D. Student Success Report – (see file) Vice President Bieber provided two student success report graphs including enrollment percentages of paid enrollment successfully completed and percentage of paid students successfully completed. Dr. Talbert thanked Kori for the reports which also provided a data comparison of fiscal years 2008/09 through 2012/13.

Discussion occurred regarding looking at a different approach to math. The Board would like to be involved when establishing conversations about this topic as this is another area of focus adopted by the Board, “Promote a focus on student success targeting math education and explore approaches that could be more successful.” Dr. Talbert suggested that administration present the Board with ideas regarding this. He reported there have been studies regarding this such as higher completion rates when placing 2 math instructors in a math class versus only one instructor. Ideas would help the Board with framing questions around what the choices are. Peter requested that everyone think about this and forward their thoughts and ideas to him.
