Rogue Community College is committed to the safe reuse, recycling, and disposal of all universal and hazardous waste materials. In order to accomplish this goal, Rogue Community College operates a safe and effective program which safeguards the environment and public, student, and employee health. The College's program complies with applicable federal, state and local rules and laws, and incorporates best management practices.

Rogue Community College operates as a Conditional Exempt Small Quantity Generator of Hazardous Waste under the provisions outlined by the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality. This program anticipates that status will not change under normal operating conditions. Should the College exceed CESQG limits, the College will comply with all applicable conditions outlined by the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality.

The Universal and Hazardous Waste Management program is maintained by the RCC Risk Management Department and is reviewed and updated on an as needed basis.

A copy of the Universal and Hazardous Waste Program and additional information can be found on the College's Risk Management webpage.
