RCC Forensics Team Competes at Mt. Hood Tournament

GRANTS PASS, Ore.—The Rogue Community College Debate and Forensics team competed in the last tournament of the year at Mount Hood Community College on Friday, May 8.

Kaitlyn Green took second place in the Novice Division, and was the top five speaker overall in the tournament. Michael Spark and Maddy Fetro also competed in the Novice Division while RCC student Christen Silveira judged Open Division debates.

RCC's Debate and Forensics team competes in the International Public Debate Association for debate and the American Forensics Association for public speaking and performance speech events.

The team attended five tournaments in its inaugural year starting in January and hopes to attend between 8-10 tournaments a year.

The debate team is open to all RCC students and currently has 12 members. If you would like more information about the RCC Debate team, please contact Dr. Doran O'Donnell at dodonnell@rogucecc.edu.
